ever eloquent, to justice and right. The old Democratic idea that it is unconstitutional and wrong for a section to ask or take appropriations from the general government, is played out, and it is no longer any use for a handful of Congressmen from a small Southern section to fight against the inevitable, and to cheat their constituents out of their share of such appropriations. Such Congressmen have their consciences too refined, and too critically educated for all practical purposes of our day and time. For not only all the Republicans of the North and Northwest, but all the Democrats equally and industriously strice and grab for as large appropriations for their sections; and a certain large amount of the public money has been for the last twenty years, thus appropriated by every Congress, and will be hereafter, whether our section will get or take its share or not; and we will be taxed equally to furnish this would seem the sheerest stupidity and stituents, to stand by and quibble, cavil. and rant in a long-winded speech. when the shares of such appropriations are being dished out of the public pot, and refuse or neglect to se-

Citizens, Do Your Duty, 14.7

As we approach a most important crisis in the history of our community, please allow me space in your paper to give expression to some thoughts relative to the coming election. In a few more days, we will be called upon to say at the polls whether or not we shall continue to have peace and order in our midst. In my opinion, no more important issue has ever come before the good people of this township. It is one in which is involved every true material and moral interest of the community. One that will JUBORS OF FEDERAL COURT.—We effect more or less every citizen in the see among the list of Federal Court community; and it is for the good and citizens of this county: W.O. - Raleigh Observer: About three years ago a man living in an adjoining county was reported to have been killed by falling from a scaffold The report was published, and was seen by the man's wife. She donned the usual mourning and for about a year mourned the loss of the dead. She then began to turn her thoughts rather more to the living. Two years past she was prevailed upon by a man of this county to become his wife, and the license was issued by the Register of Deeds in this city. A few weeks ister of Deeds, another license to marry the same woman. It was granted, and there on the same page most exactly two years between. Such a case has never occurred in

Drying Fruit—A New Era.

Editor N. C. Farmer.—A few days ago I was in your office when you gave me a piece of dried peach, which Pills. was different from any I ever saw and at your solicitation took it home with me and put it into a tumbler with about two table spoonsfull of cold water and in a few hours noticing it, it was about the usual size before drying or while in the green state. Upon tasting the juice and peach I found it had the taste and flavor of canned peaches of the best quality. This is claimed to equal in every respect the best canned fruit without the gasses that usually form in hermetically sealed fruits. Upon reading the statement of the inventor of the process by which it was cured, as to the flavor &c., of the fruit. I stated to you that I did not believe it, but now I yield.

The fruit was cured by "Ryder's American Fruit Dryer or Pneumatic Evaporator" process. If the waste fruits of the country were made use of in this way, fruit is no longer perishable necessarily.

What we as a people need is an inexpensive way of drying, curing or preserving our surplus fruits and vegetables. It cures equally well all fruits and vegetables, which when cooked is the nearest to the green state of that kept in any possible way. If we will raise fine peaches, tomatoes, &c., put them up for winter and spring use, we have indeed a new era and industry, which can and will be of great importance and magnitude to the country's future prosperity.

Fruit commands more than double as much price when dried by this process as by the ordinary modes. Let us awake and take hold of that which is opening and pushing itself upon us TOFFER AT PRIVATE SALE A TRACT or others, and carry off the palm.
