

The Effort to Recede.

The Radicals are entering upon the convention campaign with the determined purpose to deceive the people into the belief, where they can, that it is the purpose of those who favor the convention to inaugurate revolutionary measures and tear up the present constitution...

But suppose a portion of all of what they assert were true, and that the convention when it assembled threw the restrictions to the dogs and built a constitution from the ground up?

Sec. 5. The Constitution, as amended, shall be submitted to the people for ratification or rejection, and shall not be binding until the same shall have been ratified by the qualified voters of the State...

Now whatever the disposition of delegates might be, conceding that they attempt more than they are authorized to, have not the people the power to pass upon and accept or reject the new constitution?

The Greatest Insult Ever Offered to the American People.

"But I was made to believe that the public good called me to make the sacrifice."

North Carolina is tasting the bitter fruits of her new usury law. The States on either side believe in leaving money, like other species of property, to command its price in the markets...

Later he was a clerk in a leather store in Galena, very poor. He was appointed a colonel in the army, and promoted and promoted...

Finally, a rank and a title never before conferred in this country was created especially for him. He was made the General of the United States Army. Then he was nominated for President of the United States and elected.

And now look upon the beggar on horseback—the penniless wood hauler—despised then, not for his poverty, but for his gross weaknesses and faults, coming out in a letter and spitting in the face of the whole American people...

"sacrifice," that's the word—which he—Ulysses S. Grant uses—the sacrifices he made in becoming their Chief Magistrate!

The University. The members of the Faculty of the North Carolina University so far elected are gentlemen of culture and ability, some of whom, however, are not very widely known.

Prof. John Kimbrough, of Asheville, filled the chair to which he is now elected in the old University, namely: that of Agriculture and Applied Chemistry.

Rev. A. W. Mangum, pastor of the Edenton Street Methodist Church, in Raleigh, and a descendant of the illustrious United States Senator, Wiley P. Mangum, will be professor in the important school of Philosophy.

Mr. George T. Winston, of Bertie (we think), having had many years experience as an instructor in the department to which he is elected, it is presumed will make a capable adjunct professor of Languages.

Mr. Ralph H. Graves, Jr., is son of the well known R. H. Graves of Horner & Graves' school at Hillsboro. He is the youngest of the professors, bright and well informed, and will not be the small man of the faculty by any means.

The Trustees did not decide whether they would elect a President or leave the Faculty free to choose a Chairman from among themselves. That matter will come up at a subsequent meeting, to be held in Raleigh on August 31st.

Now the work is fairly begun let the blows fall thick and fast until the pride of the Southern States and an honor to America—Star.

THE ONLY QUESTION.—The only question left the people is whether they will have Conservative or Radical delegates. In considering this matter don't forget that any man who now clings to the Republican party either gives support or countenance to the infamous civil rights bill.

Hon. John C. New, who will shortly succeed Gen. Spinner as Treasurer of the United States, has declined a public dinner at Indianapolis, because he is yet untired in the duties of his new position, and would rather have something to show in the way of public business before he goes to banqueting.

SOUTH CAROLINA NEWS.

From what we can learn the crops generally throughout the county are splendid. In some portions of the county farmers are needing rain, but not suffering as yet.

The Jury in the case of AM. Walker, tried at Union Court House last week for the murder of Rev. J. Claudius Miller, brought in a verdict of guilty. A motion in arrest of judgment was made on the ground of fatal defects in the indictment.

THE CROPS.—From every section of the county we hear favorable reports of the growing crops. Though backward, by perhaps two weeks, as compared with a few preceding years, good stands of cotton have been obtained, and the plant, as well as corn, is vigorous and growing well.

WASHINGTON, June 5. THE COTTON CROP.—The Department of Agriculture is now receiving the June returns of cotton, which will form the basis of the estimates of area of the present crop.

A SEVERE HAIL STORM.—Messrs. Pelzer, Rodgers & Co., of this city, received yesterday, from one of their correspondents at Darlington a box containing a half-bushel of hail stones the size of a pigeon's eggs, and several stalks of corn, which were cut to pieces by the stones.
