Well, Shamus, what brought ye?
It's deed, spre, I thought ye—
What's kept ye this fortnight from calling on me?
Stop there! don't be lyin';
It's no use denyin'—
I knew you've been waitin' on Kitty Moges.

She's old and she's homely;
There's girls young and comely,
Who've loved you much longer and better i
But 'deed I'm not carin',
I'm glad I've no share in
The love of a boy who'd love Kitty McGes,

If tears I am showin'
I'd have ye be knowin'
They're shed out of pity for Kitty McGee.

For mane and consated,
Wid pride overweighted,

Just thryin' to test the affection ov me?
But you're the aly devil!
There, now! Place be civil; Don't hug me to death-I'm not Kitty McGee.

Well, I'll not refuse ye— know you'll be tindher and lovin' wid me;

THE NEW ROAD LAW.-Inasmuch as what we have heretofore published in regard to the new road law was only extracts, we now publish the whole of it, just as passed by the Legislature. If the law is faithfully carried out, great improvements will be made in the roads. There may be some counties in the State, whose roads are in a worse condition than those of Union; -still, we think there is room for great improvement in this county.

DUTTON'S VEGETABLE tralize the excess and secure the proper proportion of the various elements of the plant food.

For instance, low alluvial land always produces too much stalk and too little grain. To make less stalk and more grain, lime, salt, ashes, etc. may be used to great advantage and profit. In the vegetable, as well as in the animal world, there are good, bad and indifferent specimens. Stockmen have them all, and its only by close breeding, careful study and intelligent application to Nature's own laws, that they finally succeed in producing pure and valuable breeds. Just as much attention should be given to the selectting and saving of seed corn and wheat. The largest and best looking ears taken from the crib do not by any means make the best seed. The best seed corn is always found in the field on the top ears of those stalks that bear more ears than one and ripen earliest. Seed corn should always be selected DR. C. McLANE'S in the field, not from the largest stalks but from those that are best formed and have the finest strover.

Seven years of experimenting, working on one variety, have given me one that is almost invaluable in almost every respect. It is very prolific having on each stalk several ears, each yielding from five to eight ounces of grain. My best specimen of a stalk had fourteen ears and shelled sixtythree ounces. My best 100 stalks selected from off an acre, shelled 170 pounds, and my best acre on highly improved land made me 102 bushels shelled I merely state these facts to show what can be done by way of improvement in our cereals.

A word about physiology of the plant may not be out of place right here: It is the largest of the grasses. It is monœcious and susceptible, per- appetite variable, sometimes voracious, haps, of greater improvement than any other. My opinion is that, in its | ach, at others, entirely gone; fleeting original and primitive state, every pains in the stomach; occasional joint that has a groove bore an ear. nausea and vomiting; violent pains One may see on examination an ear! throughout the abdomen; bowels iror an embryo ear on every node from regular, at times costive; stools slimy; the roots to within six or seven of the not unfrequently tinged with blood; tassel. Then I ask, why do not all | belly swollen and hard; urine turbid; develop as does that on the last joint respiration occasionally difficult, and generally about two thirds of the way accompanied by hiccough; cough up? I find an ear can be made by sometimes dry and convulsive; uneasy careful selecting and saving the seed, and disturbed sleep, with grinding of feeding and proper culture.

Wheat, too, can be wonderfully improved by picking by hand the center heads of the largest tillers, that ripen earliest. This insures pure seed, reliable and free from every foreign variety, as well as from all cheat, cockles, etc. I do not mean that a farmer should pick a bushel or two which, when sowed on a choice, clean acre or two, will produce his seed for the next season. This picking should be done every year, so that the wheat may not deteriorate.

The most reliable preventive for the rust, and perhaps one of the best top dressings is a mixture of salt and ashes—half and half. By mixing in December, or early in January, and keeping it stirred twice a month, it becomes in two months one of the best the ills that flesh is heir to," but in affections of fertilizers. Put it on in February of the liver, and in all Bilious Complaints, or early in March. Four to ten bushe els to the acre will pay any one twice the amount of expense and labor expended.—Rural New Yorker.

It cures every externel trouble of horses, such as lameness, scratches, swinny, sprains, founder, wind-gall, ring-bone, etc., etc. The Mexican Mustang Liniment is the quickest cure in the world for accidents occurring in the family, in the absence of a physician, such as burns, scalds, sprains, cuts, etc., and for rheumatism, and stiffness engendered by exposure. Particularly valuable to Miners. It is the cheapest remedy in the world, for it penetrates the muscle to the bone, and a single application is generally sufficient to cure.
