Hope of the Country.

The following sensible article we take from the Southern Home, and fully indorsing it, have this to say: That whatever will apply to Charlotte on that line of thought, will apply to Monroe also. We call the attention of our readers to the article, and ask for it a careful perusal. Why should the cotton that is raised in Union county be sent North to factories and then shipped back here when manufactured? Have we not a great many idle hands around us who need work and whose wages would be spent among our farmers and merchants? What builds up a section of country faster than building up and fostering home enterprises? And into what enterprises could our capitalists put their money where it would give them greater dividends, and at the same time help their fellow man and build up the country for the benefit of coming generations, than in manufacturing?

"The subject of building up manufacturing to enhance the value of real estate in Charlotte, has been discussed frequently by us; but without any results so far, to induce capital to be invested in that line of industry. That the manufacture of the raw material produced in a country, if there converted will increase its wealth needs no argument or array of facts or figures. What has made Winston and Durham of this State, the most prosperous towns? What has made Danville and Lynchburg, Va., the most wealthy cities of the State, according to their population? Evidently it is their manufacturing of tobacco—the production of their country. If the tobacco they raised were sold in the land and shipped to other points for manufacture, there can be no doubt but one-half of their prosperity would be cut off. That is the great oversight of the South in not converting her leading staple, cotton, into yarns and cloth. If Charlotte should manufacture even one-half the cotton raised in the country, her prosperity by increased population would be tripled. She would in ten or fifteen years have a population of 20,000 or 30,000. Why then are our people so apathetic to their manifest? An agricultural people will never accumulate much wealth, though they may live comfortably, while those who convert their raw production will far surpass them in wealth. What would now be the condition of the North-west if their corn had to be sent abroad for use? It is converted into hogs at home and then sent South to supply our wants, which is really the foundation of their prosperity; for if not converted into meat it would make no profitable returns beyond a mere living. So it will ever be with us, unless steps are taken to convert our raw material into something more valuable.

To change the habits of a people can rarely ever be done, till the stern laws of necessity are upon them. To succeed in a manufacturing requires more ability and undivided attention than the production of the raw material; hence our capitalists prefer to invest in stocks and bonds, which though may make them less dividends, yet it is less troublesome, giving them more ease and leisure to indulge their natural propensities to indolence. Necessity is the mother of invention, is an old saying, and we fear that it will hold true in inducing the people of Charlotte to make a new departure in their business habits. To be a banker, to engage in commercial pursuits, buying and selling cotton, and to deal in stocks and bonds, is the ruling passion of our people, while mechanical pursuits, whether converting wood into vehicles, or iron into its multifarious forms, demanded by the wants of man, or cotton into various textile fabrics, which increase their value hundred fold, are in a great measure neglected. This should not be so. The whole North now are indebted to their prosperity to their manufacturing of our productions and are growing rich on the results of our labor; in fact they realize more out of our productions, than the tiller of the soil.

WHITE CHILDREN OF NEGRO PARENTS.
—In the Southwestern portion of this city there live two Albino children who were born of negro parents. Their parents, Squire and Evelyn Fisher, have lived in this city for a number of years and have a family of seven children, the Albinos being the fourth and fifth born to them. The others are of the same color as their parents. The eldest of the Albinos is a girl about six years of age, and the youngest a boy of about four. They are well formed and differ only in looks from their darker brothers and sisters. Their skin is white with a pinkish tinge. The pupils of their eyes are a light blue and have also a pinkish cast. They keep their heads down, the chin resting on the breast. The hair is perfectly white and looks more like the wool on a sheep's back than anything we can compare it with. Their habits and amusements are the same as other children while their mental qualities seem to be of the average of white children.—Wilmington Review.

What Vance Thinks.

Senator Z. B. Vance having been interviewed on his return from Kansas by a Washington Post reporter, says that since Thurman's chances have been laid out by the result in Ohio, Hancock is the most popular among the Democratic Presidential aspirants. He further says:

"I am heartily tired of soldiers, and would prefer to see a civilian in the Executive chair, but we need a Union soldier to offset this Grant boom.—Hancock was a better soldier than Grant, and I favor him because he has shown himself a friend of Constitutional government and civil liberty in the South."

In regard to Tilden's prospects, he says:

"Now while I have no unkind feelings towards Mr. Tilden, and should not dream of abusing him personally, I said and still say, that the general sentiment of North Carolina and of the South, is unfavorable to him as a Presidential candidate. That was the state of public sentiment when I left home, and I don't think it had greatly changed during my absence."

As to the effect of the result in N. Y., on the Presidential race, he says:

"Tilden is slaughtered if the State goes Republican this year. But it don't follow in that case, that it is lost for the Democracy in the Presidential election. The Democratic candidates will carry that State next year, for I believe that the idiotic internecine war, now going on between two factions of the party, will be beneficial in its effects, and tend to fuse and harmonize discordant elements."

Political Notes.

DEMOCRATS in Washington are not disposed to give up New York as lost. They do not believe that defeat in Ohio necessarily means defeat in New York. It is true there is a split in the Democratic party, but all is not lovely in the Republican party. It is urged by some that Robinson will gain as much from the Republican defeat as he will lose from the Kelly bolt. The careful correspondent of the moderate Baltimore Sun, writing from Washington, says:

"It is alleged here on the part of the Republicans that the victory in Ohio will insure New York to them next month. This, however, is unthinking calculation. New York is a State whose politics have never to any appreciable extent been influenced by the policies of other States, and the result of the contest in that State is less likely than ever to be governed by outside causes at this time. Indeed, if the Ohio election should have any influence on New York it would be more apt to gain votes for Robinson, as it has now been plainly manifest that the financial pereries which possess leading Democrats of Ohio, and which for a period appeared likely to sweep the country, have been stamped out in the home of their birth, and the guarantee is thus afforded that the Ohio idea will not and cannot nominate the national Democracy in the future. For this reason New York may be considered as safe for Robinson in November with more confidence than heretofore."

GEN. HANCOCK FOR PRESIDENT.—It by no means follows that if Lucius Robinson is elected Governor of New York, Samuel J. Tilden will be the next candidate for President of the United States. If the great mass of the Democracy throughout the country believe, as we firmly do believe, that Samuel J. Tilden was rightfully elected President in 1876, and if they also believe that if he was free from all contamination by the wrongful means employed to secure the office to which he was rightfully elected, then it would seem probable, in the nature and fitness of things, that he should be the first, spontaneous choice of the party for re-election.

At the same time he would be blind to what is going on who should not have observed of late a growing feeling in favor of nominating some Union General as the Democratic candidate in 1880; and Winfield S. Hancock is the Union General principally spoken of as the fit and available man.—New York Sun.

It was a tight squeeze, but the colored brother was worried through in Cincinnati, and George W. Williams (colored), will be the first of his race to sit in the Ohio Legislature. It was evidently a bitter pill for many of the pale faces to vote for the sable candidate, but the storm was big enough to sweep him in. The average Republican majority in the city was about 8,000, but Williams was cut down to 886. Enough is as good as a feast, however, and Ohio has a colored Representative.

The great question now agitating the Ohio State is who shall succeed Judge Thurman. Five candidates are already mentioned, viz.: Sherman Taft, Garfield, Foster and Matthews. All five are corrupt. Possibly Matthews is less so, and next to Sherman he is the ablest.

—The Tilden boom appears to be increasing, judging from the sentiments expressed by many journals heretofore considered unfavorable to his nomination. Not that they have changed in feeling but look at the matter in the light of availability.

—Louis A. Wiltz, the Democratic candidate for Governor of Louisiana, is the present Lieutenant Governor of the State. He was the speaker of the lower branch of the Legislature, whose hall was entered by Gen. De Trobriand at the head of a detachment of Federal troops and its members dispersed at the command of President Grant, in 1875.

Press Opinions on Ohio.

New York Tribune, Rep: Ohio is enrolled among the surely Republican States in 1880. The solid North is beginning to loom up before the solid South.

New York Sun, Ind: While, however, General Ewing was put forward as the Democratic candidate, he was known as an advocate of soft money and of the oppressive iniquitous, unconstitutional income tax. The circumstances that he held to such unsound and odious doctrines goes far to reconcile to his defeat.

New York World, Dem: The Democracy of New York, with Gov. Robinson as their leader and representative stand for the old Democratic principles of hard money, home rule and strict economy in the public service. Standing for these, the lesson of Ohio is that they have nothing to fear and everything to hope.

New York Herald, Ind: It makes it impossible for the Democratic candidate to be taken from Ohio and favors Mr. Tilden's chances of a nomination by putting some of his principal rivals out of the field. But in proportion as it improves Mr. Tilden's chances of a nomination it diminishes his chances and the chances of any Democratic candidate for an election.

Philadelphia Times, The vote of Ohio simply means that the present national attitude of the Democracy has recalled Republican deserters, stragglers and grumblers back to their party allegiance, and that the State has anchored herself in the Republican column for 1880. The Ohio idea ought to be allowed to stay dead this time. It has a great deal of impudence, but it certainly can't have enough to attempt to impose itself upon anybody more.

Washington Post, A Republican defeat in Ohio this fall would have meant the utter demolition of that party. The Democrats could easily have lost everything in the State, and still not have materially injured their presidential prospects next year.

Philadelphia Press: The result actually disposes of what is popularly known as the "Ohio idea," in finance. The paper money delusion has been repudiated by the State in which it had its origin, and where it was propagated by men of ability and character.

Philadelphia Enquirer: Ohio is firmly fixed in the Republican column, an integral part of the coming "solid North" made necessary by the omnino threats of a "solid South." Further, the result in Ohio indicates a solid Republican column this fall.

Louisville Courier-Journal: The odds were too great for us. We might have beaten Foster, or even Sherman. But we could not beat the government. This result ought to satisfy Democrats of the folly of financial equivocation. It shows conclusively that the "Ohio idea," is and always has been, a delusion and a snare. Ewing was its strongest expression; Thurman its most respectable advocate. Both are retired. One is beaten for Governor and the other loses his seat in the Senate. It is too bad that such able and serviceable men should be sacrificed to such a blunder.

Baltimore Sun: It results shape the politics of the future, and especially of the impending contest for the presidency in 1880, in a most salutary way. The election, which seems to have been participated in by nearly every voter in the State, shows, conclusively, and it is to be hoped finally, that the inflation heresy, no matter how strongly endorsed by those who would set themselves up as the champions of a great political party, no matter how forcibly buttressed by subsidiary issues of the utmost importance and urgency from points of view, cannot succeed in securing a majority of votes to support, it even in the State where the advocates of "rag money" were thought to be the strongest. It ought to be admitted now, at least, that a majority of the people of the West, as well as of the East, are in favor of honest money of the honest payment of all public debts, and of a return to the substantial currency with which our fathers were contented. Parties who ignore durable principles such as these have no right to expect to last or to triumph. So long, at least, as the body of the people are honest and capable of preserving their common sense. The Ohio election does not seem to have much significance or bearing beyond what has been indicated above.

RABBIT WONDERFUL TIME.—Some interest has been excited in sporting circles by the statement that Rarus had just broken his fastest record. An attaché of Mr. Bonner's office informed the reporter that on Saturday John Murphy drove Rarus one mile over Mr. Bonner's Tarry-town track in 1.11. The first three quarters were trotted each in thirty-three seconds. There is no truth, he said, in the rumor that Edwin Forrest made the same record as Rarus over the same track, and it is not true that Rarus and Edwin Forrest are to be driven as a team.—New York Star, 8th.

—The Asheville Citizen of the 16th says that during the month of October 140 feet of the bench of the Swannanoa tunnel were removed, leaving only 140 feet to be removed, and then the tunnel will be passable for trains. The train on the other side of the mountains are now running within eleven miles of Asheville, and in six weeks it is thought they will run within six miles of Asheville.

—The Charleston cotton exchange estimate that the crop in South Carolina will be about twenty percent below the average.

Thurman on the Result.

DISAPPOINTED BUT NOT ALTOGETHER DEFEATED—THE POLITICAL FUTURE.

I called to see Senator Thurman this morning, and talked with him upon the unexpected result of the election on Tuesday.

I asked the Senator if he wasn't greatly surprised at the result here in Ohio. He admitted that he had confidently expected that it would be different, but added: "While it is a surprise to me and a disappointment, because I wanted to see the Democracy carry Ohio this fall, still, so far as I am concerned, it will relieve me of the duties of an arduous position, and give me a chance for rest which I need."

"The Republicans claim that this victory of theirs wipes out the Democratic party in Ohio, Senator. Do you agree with them?"

"Wipes out the Democratic party? Why, no! The Democratic party can't be wiped out! I believe it to be indestructible. It will never die as long as we have a form of free government. You might as well try to make me believe that the world would be burned up next week as that the Democratic party can be destroyed while this Government is a Republic."

"To what do you ascribe this triumph of the Republican party? Never before did they make so determined a fight in a State contest."

"They made up their minds that they must carry Ohio or their party would fall to pieces. The Republican party is a different political organization from the Democratic one. It must now and then make a tremendous struggle to retain existence, and this was one of the occasions. It is now grasping for power, and power which it means centralized Government, in which all the States shall be absorbed, so that they shall be nothing more to it than the counties are now."

"A Nation, as they call it; not a Union of the States."

"Yes, a great Nation controlling everything within its borders from one head. This they seek to obtain by the aid of every means at their command. The money power, the power of patronage, by raising false issues to alarm the timid, and every other device they can invent is brought to assist them to attain this end. See the great corporations that are springing up everywhere. They look at a State charter, but must go to Congress to become incorporated. Railroad companies, telegraph companies and banks must all be chartered by the United States Congress to carry on business. Formerly they were content with State charters, but now they won't have them. This shows the drift of affairs toward centralization. I would not say that is a monarchy they want, but they certainly desire it to abrogate the rights of the States and to make it all into one General Government. And that is where the Democratic party must make its fight in the future."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

A MOUNTAIN IN TRAVEL.—A few days ago Mr. N. V. Jones, mail rider from this place to Shooting Creek in Clay county, called on us and made the following statement. Two weeks ago last Friday, while on my route, I was descending Chunky Gal Mountain, and when near the base I heard a very loud rumbling noise. At first I thought it was thunder, but noticed that the sky was perfectly clear, and gave the noise no further thought for that day. The next day I was accompanied by a young man; and as we were ascending the same mountain, we found our path blocked by a very large rock about eighteen feet square. We gave the rock a partial examination and found it to be wet, as if it had been in the ground. Then we noticed the ground torn up in the direction of the summit, and concluded to see further into the matter, and traveled over a half mile in its track. It had made great holes in the earth, large enough to build houses in. Trees and everything else were shivered, broken, torn up by the roots and thrown out of its way. We did not have time to examine further, but think it must have traveled at least two miles. The people in that section were terribly frightened, one old lady being so badly shocked that her recovery is very doubtful. This is what Mr. Jones related to us. He seemed a little excited, and promises to report all further researches. He firmly believes that the rock was shot out of the mountain side.—Franklin Reporter.

A DEADLY FRED IN KENTUCKY.—GRATON KY, Oct. 13.—Jesse Underwood was shot in the door of his father's house, known as Fort Underwood, yesterday morning. The Holbrook party surrounded the house and threatened to kill anybody who would dare to bury Jesse's body or rescue George Underwood, who is badly wounded, and with the woman and the children inside the house, all that remains of the unfortunate Underwood family. George to-day sent word to the County Judge, praying for help and protection. The Governor has been appealed to, but has not responded. This is the fifth murder that has occurred in Carter county within the last three weeks; four of the murdered men being Underwoods and one a member of the Holbrook family. Nothing has been done by any officer, from the Governor down to the county magistrates, to check this fearful bloodshed.

—The Memphis Avalanche proposes that the old town be entirely depopulated and destroyed, and that a new Memphis be built at a place known as Bartlett, eleven miles distant. It suggests that "half a dozen railroad tracks could do the transporting between the new city and the river."

Ohio and the Republicans.

Exultant over the success in Ohio, some of the Republicans are now claiming their ability to elect the next President and to sweep out of power, the present Democratic majority of the Senate in 1881.

At present the Senate stands, 42 Democrats, 33 Republicans, and 1 Independent, David Davis. Thus the Democrats have nine majority over the Republicans, or eight majority over all. Of the seventy-six Senators there are twenty-five whose terms will expire on March 3, 1881. The eleven States of California, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Nebraska, Nevada, Ohio, (in the place of Thurman), Rhode Island, Vermont, and Wisconsin will certainly return Republican Senators. The nine States of Delaware, Florida, Maryland, Mississippi, (in place of Bruce), Missouri, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia and West Virginia will certainly return Democratic Senators.

Twenty of the twenty-five new Senators are thus accounted for, with a gain of one on each side, leaving the relative situation of the two parties unchanged. The remaining five seats are now filled by Messrs. Eaton, of Conn., McDonald, of Ind., Kernan, of N. Y., Randolph, of N. J., and Wallace, of Penn. The Republicans have the present Legislatures of Conn., N. Y., N. J., and Penn. The Democrats have that of Indiana. In the elections to be held in these States, the probability is that each party will hold its own. In that case, the new Senate would stand thirty-eight Democrats, thirty-seven Republicans, and one Independent. Should the Republicans carry Indiana, the two parties would change places, and the Democrats would have thirty-eight votes with one Independent, who, by voting with the Democrats would give the new Vice-President the casting voice, and transform his negative functions into a controlling power in the legislation of that body.

It is thus seen that, conceding every seat claimed by the Republicans, even including that for Indiana, they would still be without an actual majority in the Senate in 1881. In either of the contingencies presented, Judge Davis could tie the Senate. Then the result would depend entirely upon the political complexion of the next Vice-President.

Governor Jarvis at Philadelphia.

At the convention of the thirteen Governors held in Philadelphia on Saturday last, after Mr. Glennan of the Virginia had read an address prepared by the people of Yorktown, the following action was taken upon the arrangements for the celebration. Upon a motion, Governors Hoyt, Simpson and Holliday were appointed a committee on resolutions, and the first named reported the following:

Resolved, That we the Governors and representatives of the original colonies, convened at Independence Hall, in Philadelphia, this 13th day of October, 1879, knowing that the purposes for which we have assembled meets the hearty approbation of our constituents, do hereby commend to the people of the United States celebration of the centennial anniversary of the surrender of Cornwallis at Yorktown as shall best fit the historical significance of that event and the present greatness of the nation.

Resolved, That a committee of one from each State, to be nominated by the Governor thereof, of which committee Governor Holliday shall be the chairman, be appointed to make proper arrangements for such celebration.

Governor Jarvis, in seconding the resolutions, said that, coming from a State that had drafted the first Declaration of Independence, he but reflected the unanimous sentiment of his people that this celebration might be a grand success. One hundred years ago but one sentiment animated the people of this country, and that was a desire for the success of the struggle in which they were engaged, and he hoped that now, as one united country, we would do what we could to obliterate the bitter memories of the past, and to make the stars and stripes float over not only a prosperous but a united country.

—Charlotte Democrat: The colored people, at some of their protracted meetings in the eastern countries, have a new novel mode of worship, or of raising money; they call it "Storming Jericho." They form a ring and walk around a table at which the Bishop sits. As they march, singing and shouting, they have to put some money in his hat. When they go around for the seventh time a horn is blown, and at this signal they all fall down and lay as if dead, when, at another given signal, they all rise and go through the same ceremony. The latter part is called the blowing of "Gabriel's Horn," or the Judgment Day. In this part of the State they have "Holy Walks" and "Coke Walks," and enjoy themselves generally in a "high falutin'" manner, sometimes to the great annoyance of persons who want to sleep. While learning to read and write they ought to be taught what true religion and worship are.

—Salisbury News: Col. D. C. Salisbury has the largest two-year-old Poland-China hog in the State. It weighs 1,000 pounds, and measures nine feet in length, and four and a half in height.

—Durham Recorder: Robt Beeswell is to be hung on Friday, Oct. 31. The gallows on which the Chapel Hill burglar has been taken down; but we believe it is to be erected, and that Boswell's execution is to be public.

Monroe Enquirer.

Monroe, N. C. Saturday, Oct. 25, 1879.

WANTED—Five hundred feet good wagon timber, at W. C. Owen's wagon shops, for which the highest prices will be paid.

REMOVAL.—The Millinery Store of Mr. J. W. Townsend has been removed to the store room next door to the Corner Drug Store, on Trade Street.

Among the list of Assistant Marshals for the Wadesboro fair we see the names of Maj. J. B. Ashcraft and M. Lee Stevens of this county.

A Missionary Meeting will be held in the Methodist Church in this place on to-morrow night. An address suitable to the occasion will be made by the Pastor.

Mr. W. H. Yandle reports that he killed in the neighborhood of Stout, on last Friday, a coach-whip snake measuring a little over six feet in length.

On this, the 25th day of October, the first heavy frost and ice of the season was noticed. The warm, dry weather of the last six weeks has been a great advantage to cotton growers, but we are of the opinion that colder weather will now set in.

The cotton market in Monroe has been quite lively the past week. The prices have been on the rise and sellers are well pleased. 1000 bales were sold in Monroe this week, the heaviest day's sales being on Friday, when 378 bales were bought. The prices for best cotton have ranged from 10½ to 10¾, closing last night at 10¾ for very best.

DIED.—In Sandy Ridge township on the 15th, inst., Lucy Elizabeth, daughter of J. T. and S. A. Ross, aged 3 years and 5 months.

In Morning Star township, Mecklenburg County on the 2nd inst., Mrs. Mary Phifer, widow of Nicholas Phifer, aged 98 years. She was a member of the Lutheran Church for 72 years, and said at her last hour that she was prepared to die.

MARRIED.—In Sandy Ridge township on the 22nd, by Rev. Wm. McDonald, Mr. Jno. J. Grigg of Charlotte and Miss Maggie A. Gribble. At Centre, Stanly Co., N. C., on the 22nd inst., by Rev. W. H. Bobbitt, H. A. Crawford Esq., of Wadesboro, and Miss Sarah Lanier.

In Goose Creek township, on the 23rd, by E. S. Harkness, Esq., Mr. Wm. M. Polk and Mrs. Mary J. Orman.

Please look on the red label where your name is printed on this week's issue and see to what date your subscription is paid. If you are owing us allow us to insist on an early settlement. The amount due from each one is very small and certainly no one would hardly miss it, but the aggregate amount of all that is due us would make a sum that will help us considerably and we must have it, if we make our business a successful one. Let us express the hope that within the next two weeks every one that is in debt to us will call and settle.

MERCHANT'S EXCURSION.—The merchants of Wilmington have made arrangements with the Carolina Central Railroad and will give a free excursion over that road to Wilmington. Tickets are now being sent out good from Oct. 28th, to Nov. 11th. The object is, as stated by circular, "to more fully develop the community of interests heretofore existing between the Carolinas, Georgia and the Port of Wilmington" and with a view of bringing to notice the many facilities here for traveling traffic, both Coastwise and Foreign. We return thanks to the Committee on invitations for a Complimentary Ticket.

TRADE in Monroe has been quite brisk the past week, and more cotton was bought than during any previous week this season. On yesterday, the train of wagons on the way to the weigher's platform at the Depot was for two hours about a half mile in length, as close in line as it was possible for them to get—extending from the depot to Armfield's store—thence around two sides of the pub's square to a point in front of our office. (Mr. Fee Dee Harsell, "there is that for high") Our merchants have been very busy, and great quantities of goods have been sold. Just so, "your cousins and aunts" have all been in Monroe this week, selling cotton at high prices, and buying goods at lowest prices. Nearly four hundred bales in a day! Who says Monroe is not ahead?

WHAT A BOOM IS.—Bro. Gardner, president of the Lime Kiln Club, is reported by the Detroit Free Press as giving the following definition of a boom: "Do I know what a boom means? Sit down, Brudner Penstock, an' don't forget as long as yestay on air that I know'd all about booms afore ye was boin' 'Deed, sah, I was boomin' down frow de cotton, able to do a man's work, afore you had teef big 'nuff to munch hoe-oake! A boom means to git an' dust. To step to de front door an' yell. To climb to de top self an' whoop. To swing yer hat an' shout fur de perlece. To git up in de middle of de night an' sing de praises of a man who has an awful achin' fur offa. 'Bomeal 'Sence me, but dis club has no pollytians to fear an' canditates to favor."

The Rocky River Baptist Association is now in session at Matthew's Station, and we are informed by the pastor of the church at that place that round trip tickets can be bought at our Depot for only 50 cents. Train passes up in the morning and down at night, hence a good opportunity is offered all who wish to attend.

THE OHIO ELECTION.—"The boys" forgot to mention in last issue the result of the Ohio election, and though it is late, still as a matter of record we will say that Foster, the Republican candidate for Governor, is elected by some 20,000, and the Democrats lose Legislature, and with it a United States Senator, the latter being the most serious loss.

THE SOLDIER'S REUNION at Salisbury last Thursday was quite a success, so we learn from reliable sources. At least 8000 were present and good order and perfect harmony prevailed. Speeches were made by Gov. Jarvis, Senator Vance, Judge Fowle, General Barringer, Col. Merrill of Mississippi, Hon. A. M. Scales, Col. W. H. C. Cowler, Col. Wm. Johnson, Hon. W. M. Robbins and Hon. J. M. Leach and by Maj. W. F. Halleck of the United States Army.

FESTIVAL.—The order of Good Samaritans and Daughters of Samaria, a colored temperance organization, held a festival at the hall of colored masons on Wednesday and Thursday nights, which was tolerably attended, and enabled them to raise a sufficient sum of funds to accomplish the purposes for which it was designed. The affair we learn, was very creditable, alike to the managers and to "Aunt Norah," who superintended the preparation of the provender. The ENQUIRER thanks to Sam'l Pride, the barber, for kind remembrance in the shape of a "fat o'possum," and other substantial articles of diet.

ERRATA.—The last issue of the ENQUIRER was published during the absence of the Editor—an occurrence which has not happened once before in the last five years—and in the hurry of getting to press some typographical errors were made that we regret and which perhaps should now be corrected. For instance J. C. Maske, and not Marsh is the name of the cotton picker mentioned. Cotton prices should have been quoted 10 to 10½ instead of 12½. In the report of the Parker trial we should have stated that Leander Shack mounted Moses Horn's horse at Green Doster's field instead of Moses Hinson as was printed. We claim that as a general thing the ENQUIRER is as free from errors of this sort as any paper; and had we read the proof, we would have had no need for this article.

COLORED DISTRICT CONFERENCE.—The Wadesboro District Conference of the A. M. E. Zion Church, met in Monroe, on the 15th ult. We have been furnished with a synopsis of the proceedings from which we take the following statistics: Circuits and Stations 11; members and probationers, 2,372; in Sunday-schools, 770; vol. in library, 1,000; churches, campgrounds, etc., on this dist., 35; valued at $7,185. Churches out of debt, except the new church at Monroe—Churches built this year, by Elders Smyer and Keeler out of debt. A memorial was prepared asking the General Conference, which meets next year to return Bishop Hood to this Episcopal District for another term of four years. Petitions for return of some Elders and Deacons on this District for other year, was sent up to the annual conference. Next meeting of Dist. Conference in Wadesboro in 1880.

Parker's Sentence Reduced.—In our last issue we stated that Judge Buxton had sentenced Robert Parker, convicted of manslaughter, to two years imprisonment in the State Penitentiary. After our paper had gone to press the counsel for the defendant prevailed on the Judge to reduce the term of imprisonment to 18 months. We hear the Judge sharply criticised by a great many for making the penalty for taking a fellow being's life so light, and it does really seem that if Parker is guilty of manslaughter, the Judge's decision is a penalty should be imposed on the public and deter those who carry deadly weapons from using them for every little seeming insult or danger. If the two will bear a comparison it seems that Judge Buxton values a human life as equal to a bushel and a half of corn, as sentenced one other prisoner to one year's imprisonment for stealing only one bushel of corn. Parker may consider himself fortunate indeed that his case was tried before Judge Buxton than whom there is not a more tender-hearted Judge in the State.

A Stock Law Election.—We are pleased to learn that an election on the Stock Law question has been ordered in Sandy Ridge Township, and will be held on the 20th of November, being the 3rd Thursday. The managers at Wolfesville are: T. L. Cuthbertson Esq., Reg'd. D. V. Clark, J. R. Huneault, V. P. Redwine and Henry F. Bivens managers. At Davis Mine, E. S. Harkness, Reg'd. J. A. Biggers, Jas. I. Harkie, F. M. Poir and Geo. C. Davis, managers. It may be a close race in that Township, but there is one thing of which we are sure, and that is, after trying the Stock Law for a year they will never be willing to have it repealed. In sections where the Stock Law has been tried it is the universal experience of all that it is the best thing that can be done to promote the farming interests.

Goldboro Messenger: In the Superior Court, on Monday, a jury was empaneled to receive the submission to a verdict of manslaughter of James Hughes, charged with the killing of George Lane in July, 1878. It was in evidence that the killing was not done with any intent, malice or aforethought. The defendant was fined $25 and costs.

At La Grange, Texas, a saloon-keeper evades a Sunday law by assembling drinkers in his saloon, when a chapter or two of the Bible is read and discussed between copious libations of beer.

Lynchburg is put down as one of the most prosperous of Virginia cities. In 1870 her population was but 7,000, now it is estimated at 25,000. There is progress and growth, and advancement in wealth for you—and who with this evidence before him doubts of the future of Virginia?

—The Republicans of Louisiana have decided to make a contest for the various State officers at the December election, and to that end will put a complete ticket in the field, headed by Judge Beattie, a prominent and influential business man of New Orleans. They do not, of course, expect to elect anybody, but the organization will be effected in behalf of Grant, and the State Convention which meet in a few days will elect delegates to the next National Convention. This matter has been sprung so suddenly that it will in all probability head off Secretary Sherman's Custom House boom.

Asheboro Courier: The drought continues in this county and its effects are beginning to excite alarm. Our farmers can do nothing in the way of preparing their soil for a wheat crop. Our branches are dry and our larger streams are rapidly falling. Wells and springs are failing everywhere.

The Observer says that Rev. J. F. Butt, of Charlotte, is in correspondence with parties at the North with a view to obtaining a canvass capable of covering several thousand people, which he proposes to put up on the vacant lot near his church. He proposes to begin here a series of meetings which shall last a month, and be conducted by some of the most distinguished revivalists in the country.

Nature is very much like a shiftless child who, the more he is helped, the more he looks for it. The more medicine a man takes, the more he will have to take, whether it is anodyne, tonic, or alterative.

We are just now having a period of railway disasters. Epidemics of crime and casualty, in all their various forms, ravage the country, at the intervals, and this seems to be the period for railroad fatalities. The papers have teemed with them for several days past, and the telegrams of this morning add two more to the already long list.—Ez.
